Wagner SEAHAWKS

2008-09 Record: 7-22
2008-09 NEC Finish: 3-15, t-10th
2009-10 Projected Finish: 11th

One to Watch

Wagner dropped a pair of close games - by a combined eight points - to Metro Area rival Fairleigh Dickinson last season. The Seahawks have only one opportunity for pay back on this year's schedule. Wagner makes the short trip over the Goethals Bridge to face FDU on Feb. 11, two days before heading south on the Turnpike to play Monmouth at the Jersey Shore. The Seahawks' last trip to Teaneck yielded a two-point double OT loss.

One to Remember

Wagner had a happy Valentine's Day in 2009 thanks to a 53-51 road win at cross-town rival Long Island. The Seahawks, who defeated the Brooklyn-based Blackbirds by the exact same score at home one month earlier, were crowned the NEC's Queens of New York for a 3-1 record against fellow NYC residents (Long Island and St. Francis). LIU held the crown the year prior.

Season Preview

Looking to take the next step, Wagner returns four experienced starters to go along with a pair of newcomers who are already proven talents at the Division I level. Forward Sha'Ron Harrison, who sat out last season after transferring from Delaware, will be in uniform when the Seahawks open the season at Army while Fordham transfer Megan Mahoney must wait until the fall semester concludes.

Mahoney transferred from the Bronx-based Atlantic 10 school back to her native borough of Staten Island midway through the 2008-09 academic year. As a freshman she scored a team-high 15.1 points per game and earned A-10 All-Rookie honors. "Megan just has the will to score," said head coach Gela Mikalauskas. "We're very happy to have her at Wagner and her value to the team has already been seen with the work ethic she brings. She's a really hard-working kid and we feel that the impact she's made on our practices has already made us a better team."

Junior forward Ashley Olsen (8.5 ppg, 5.6 rpg), who like Mahoney played her high school ball on Staten Island, was one of two Seahawks to average more than 30 minutes per game last season. The other was point guard Andrea Reed. The 5-foot-4 senior led the team in scoring (13.0 ppg) and the Northeast Conference in assists (5.1 apg). The two upperclassmen comprise a core that has Mikalauskas excited for the season ahead. "We've definitely been a work in progress, but we think that our core kids and proven players are going to be able to step up for us and we're excited about it," the veteran head coach said.

The Seahawks' bench boasts two experienced sophomores who saw significant minutes as rookies. Forward Kelly Clark (7.4 ppg) and guard Kanifa Hicks (5.4 ppg), both New Jersey products, gives Wagner something it has lacked in recent seasons. "We have better depth than we've had in a long time," said Mikalauskas.

Scoring Rebounding Minutes

Focusing in on three selected statistical categories, the above graph shows the amount (in percentage points) of production the team returns from its 2008-09 season output.

NEG - toid

Wagner senior point guard Andrea Reed has led the Northeast Conference in assists during each of the past two seasons. In 2008-09, the lightning-quick point guard (5.1 apg, 5.2 rpg) was the only NEC player to average in excess of five assists and five rebounds per game. A triple-double threat every time out, Reed is the Conference's fourth-leading returning scorer (13.0 ppg). She also posted team highs in steals (65) and free throw percentage (.721).
